

ARTICULATIONS

Illinois Articulation Initiative

Aurora University participates in the Illinois Articulation Initiative (IAI), which eases the transfer process among many Illinois colleges and universities. The IAI is a major statewide, cooperative agreement among participating Illinois colleges and universities to facilitate successful transfer of course credits from one participating institution to another. A General Education Core Curriculum (GECC) has been defined by IAI, and if students follow the prescribed curriculum, the credits will generally satisfy General Education requirements at participating Illinois colleges and universities. Lower-division courses in some majors are also available through IAI.

Aurora University has articulation agreements with a number of community colleges. We encourage transfer students to refer to AU's Admission & Aid website (<https://aurora.edu/admission/transfer/>) to review transfer guides and transferability of courses.

University of Wisconsin Colleges - George Williams College of Aurora University Degree Completion

A student who has earned his/her Associate of Arts and Science degree from one of the 13 campuses in the University of Wisconsin System has met all lower-division general education requirements at George Williams College of Aurora University. Students must also successfully complete academic program requirements in the major. A GWC admission counselor can provide information concerning requirements that still need to be met.
