

MARKETING (BS)

Bachelor of Science

Marketing is a fundamental activity in corporate and not-for-profit organizations. The emphasis on metrics, cost-effective operations, value delivery systems, customer satisfaction and brand loyalty in today's economy make marketing a priority in all business settings. The marketing major prepares students for careers in digital marketing, product development, brand management, advertising, personal selling, and consumer research. Practical application of marketing theory is highlighted in the required capstone experience.

The Marketing program is designed to help students gain the integrated communication, marketing, management, and research skills needed for success in today's high-tech, big data business environment. The program prepares students to work in a fast growing career field by combining the foundations of digital marketing with relevant applications and analytical techniques.

Coursework examines the ways that digital technology affects communication and marketing strategies. Students learn to plan, implement, and measure the results of marketing campaigns using various software, web, and social media platforms. The curriculum also includes real-world case studies, providing opportunities for students to leverage the analysis and marketing channels that are widely used in today's business settings.

(IDS-3500 Junior Mentoring Program I and IDS-3550 Junior Mentoring Program II - Not required for ADC or AU Online students)
 - Distribution Requirements
Students will complete one approved course¹ from each of the following categories:
 - Artistic Literacy
 - Cultural Literacy
 - Human Inquiry
 - Scientific Inquiry

In addition to the above, ADC and Online students will also complete one approved course¹ from the following category:

- Integration and Application

¹ Only courses that are approved to meet the distribution requirement can be used toward this requirement. See the list of approved courses (<https://catalog.aurora.edu/regulations-policy-catalog/academic-regulations-procedures/general-education/#approved-courses-gen-ed-distribution>) for available options. Courses taken to meet distribution requirements are 4 semester hours apiece, with the following exceptions:

- An approved transfer course of at least 2.50 semester hours can be used to satisfy a distribution requirement.
- Courses with co-requisite laboratory components may be used to satisfy a distribution requirement, provided that the student successfully complete both the three-credit-hour course and the single-credit-hour lab component.

Learning Outcomes

1. Marketing Mix: Students will demonstrate an understanding of the combination of factors (product, price, place, promotion) that influence consumers. This foundational outcome aligns with the department's mission statement in preparing students for preparing a brand for a successful offering.
2. Marketing Strategy: Students will be able to develop effective marketing plans that demonstrate an understanding of target marketing, positioning, and competitive analysis. This outcome aligns with the department's mission statement in providing learning experiences in creating strategies for organizations that leverage internal and external strengths.
3. Marketing Management: Students will demonstrate an understanding of the key areas of marketing management, including planning, implementation, evaluation, and control. This outcome aligns with the department's mission statement in conjunction with other business major mission statements to view an organization as a whole, and apply management principles to marketing teams.
